

FRONT PANEL WITH SYSTEM INFORMATION

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

[0018] An information display panel for a computer displays the operational status of the CPU and the BIOS, information processed by the operation system, information processed by a remote computer through a USB port, and/or a clock with alarm function. Moreover, the display panel may display such information when the computer is powered down.